

Introduction

Less than a century after it was founded, Houston, Texas already boasted the state's largest population. Phenomenal growth has been a characteristic of this great city since its inception and E. M. Blues has been an integral part of that growth since 1934. Houston's first full service rigging shop, E. M. Blues currently supplies all types of nylon slings, chain, Rigger's hardware, and wrecker supplies in addition to the quality wire rope products the company has long been known for. Innovative, experienced, dependable - for 75 years, these are the words contractors across the Houston area have used when referring to E.M. Blues. If the quality of your job is important to you, put your trust in E.M. Blues.
